ABOUT US

We are honoured to do our part in celebrating First Nations and Native American arts and cultures.

We work exclusively with Indigenous artists, featuring the artists and their tribal affiliations on all of our packaging.

We bring authentic art to everyday living through a diverse selection of gifts, fashion, and learning tools.

THE NATIVE NORTHWEST STORY

Native Northwest's story began 35 years ago with a social worker, a rack of postcards in a basement, and the vision of celebrating First Nations and Native American arts with the world.

We are inspired by the living cultures of the Pacific Northwest. Our company office is honoured to be situated on the majestic Fraser River within Musqueam (Coast Salish) territory, in beautiful Vancouver, B.C.

The values behind our brand originate with the founding reason for the company: Native arts and cultures, designed by Indigenous artists, propelled by commerce for a social purpose.

Each of our exchanges, from the sourcing and compensation of Indigenous artists, to our staff and merchants, are part of a lifelong relationship between Indigenous cultures and the communities we pledge to honour and respect.

Our evolution to a social and business enterprise is ongoing. We thank you for joining us in the journey that lies ahead.

Follow our story online.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP

It's about people...

Over the last year, we were honoured to partner with more than 60 organizations that support Indigenous peoples and communities.

Here are a few initiatives that drive our community involvement:

Youth and Education

We continue to support the integration of Indigenous arts, cultures, and history into curriculum.

Through our literacy project, A Book in Every Home, proceeds from Native Explore learning tools provide thousands of books to Indigenous children.

We support anti-bullying awareness and safe spaces through the production of our Pink Shirt Day t-shirts.

Community Health and Conversation

We believe in starting conversations and encouraging people to open up to those around them as a means of making change.

To support a path to well-being and suicide prevention, we created The Journey of Hope posters, given free of charge to 2,000 community spaces.

We support Orange Shirt Day through the design and sale of orange t-shirts. Funds from these sales go to survivors, the promotion of awareness, and education on the impact of the Residential School System.

Information on our Truth and Reconciliation poster, now in over 9000 classrooms, can be found on p.173.

Women and Families

A portion of proceeds from our Sacred Shawl collection has already been directed to carefully chosen women's organizations that protect, bring healing, and build awareness to end violence against women.

Join us!

Native Northwest wants to know how we can expand our support to Indigenous initiatives in your community.

Please contact us at community@nativenorthwest.com with partnership opportunities near you.

We thank the many non-profit organizations with whom we work for the positive impact they have in their communities. Here are a few:

MEET THE ARTISTS

Native Northwest collaborates exclusively with First Nations and Native American artists. We are thankful for the long-term relationships with our artists and their families. Meet a few of our artists:

"Culture is not stagnant. Through contact and the technological revolution Tlingit culture is constantly adapting, observing, and searching for its place in the world."

Alison Bremner
Tlingit

"Our art retells our ancestors' stories about our connection to the land that we have respectfully lived on for thousands of years."

Francis Horne Sr.
Coast Salish

"Northwest Coast design has always served a functional purpose. Formline meets function with Native Northwest, and some of my most integral artwork has been placed on these environmentally conscious products."

Paul Windsor
Haisla, Heiltsuk

"When I return to my traditional land, I am honoured to see people wearing and using items that I designed."

Ernest Swanson
Haida

"It is amazing having my designs on a range of Native Northwest products. It is a good way to share my art and get my name out there. My art can now be easily afforded and allows people to enjoy an item with one of my designs on it."

Trevor Angus
Gitksan

"I find it meaningful to share my art with people from my own community and contribute to culture and identity. I also like sharing Haida art with all people."

Eric Parnell
Haida

MEET THE ARTISTS

"Our stories share our First Nations cultural beliefs, values and way of life. These books are valuable teaching resources for all ages."

Melaney Gleeson-Lyall (Point)
Musqueam, Coast Salish

"Art is my language, and an expression of who I am and where I come from. Sharing my culture helps to honour and preserve it."

Ben Houstie
Bella Bella

"I am honoured to share my culture and appreciate when people show their respect by using products that feature my designs."

Allan Weir
Haida

"Water is Life, Water is Healing, Water is Health, Water is Cleansing. It is a right to have access to clean water."

Corey Bulpitt
Haida

Water is central to all life on the earth. Partial proceeds of the Protect Our Water cap will support access to clean water.

"I remain committed to sharing our art and culture and passing it down to future generations."

RECONCILIATION

TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION

CALLS TO ACTION ON EDUCATION

In order to redress the legacy of residential schools and advance the process of Canadian reconciliation, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission makes the following calls to action:

EDUCATION

We call upon the Government of Canada to:

- 1. Report Section 83 of the Criminal Code of Canada.
- 2. Develop with Aboriginal groups a joint strategy to eliminate educational and employment gaps between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal Canadians.
- 3. Eliminate the discrepancy in federal education funding for First Nations children being educated in reserves and those First Nations children being educated off-reserve.
- 4. Prepare and publish a joint report concerning funding for the education of First Nations children on and off-reserve, as well as educational and income attainment of Aboriginal people in Canada compared with non-Aboriginal people.
- 5. Draft new Aboriginal education legislation with the full participation and informed consent of Aboriginal peoples. The new legislation would include a commitment to sufficient funding:
 - i. Providing sufficient funding to close identified educational achievement gaps between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal students;
 - ii. Improving education attainment levels and access rates;
 - iii. Diversifying culturally appropriate curricula;
 - iv. Protecting the right to Aboriginal languages, including the teaching of Aboriginal languages in all provinces;
 - v. Ensuring that all provinces and territories, including and progressively, similar to what parents enjoy in public school systems;
 - vi. Encouraging parents to fully participate in the education of their children;
 - vii. Providing adequate funding to end the backlog of First Nations students in need of special education services;
 - viii. Developing culturally appropriate early childhood education programs for Aboriginal families.

LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

We call upon the Government of Canada to:

- 1. Acknowledge that Aboriginal rights include Aboriginal language rights.
- 2. Enact an Aboriginal Languages Act.
- 3. In consultation with Aboriginal groups, support an Aboriginal Languages Commissioner. The Commissioner would have the authority to monitor and report on the frequency of language use in Aboriginal communities.
- 4. We call upon provinces/territories to create university and college level programs in Aboriginal languages.
- 5. Enable residential school survivors and their families to receive income support for the special school costs to ensure change programs and the addition of other children to programs, such as the National Residential School Survivors Program, health cards, status cards, and social insurance numbers.

RECONCILIATION

Canadian Governments and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous People

- 1. Fully ratify and implement the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples as the framework for reconciliation.
- 2. Develop a national action plan, strategy, and other concrete measures to achieve the goals of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.
- 3. We call upon the Government of Canada, on behalf of all Canadians, to fully accept and implement a Report of the Commission of Truth and Reconciliation. The report would be based on the final findings of TRC and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, and would include the nation-to-nation relationship between Aboriginal peoples and the Crown.
- 4. We call upon the parties of the Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement to develop and sign a Covenant of Reconciliation that would identify principles for ongoing nation-to-nation relationships in Canadian society.
- 5. Replicate concepts used to justify European sovereignty over indigenous people and lands, such as the Doctrine of Discovery and terra nullius, in the system laws, government policies, and litigation strategies that continue to rely on such concepts.

EDUCATION FOR RECONCILIATION

We call upon the federal, provincial, territorial and Aboriginal governments to:

- 1. In consultation and collaboration with Survivors, Aboriginal peoples, and educators to:
 - a. Make age appropriate curriculum in residential schools, treaties, and Aboriginal people's historical and contemporary contributions to Canada a mandatory educational requirement for students in Grade Twelve in all provinces;
 - b. Provide the necessary funding to post-secondary institutions to educate teachers on how to integrate Indigenous knowledge and teaching methods into their curriculum;
 - c. Provide the necessary funding to Aboriginal schools to create Indigenous language and teaching methods in their classrooms;
 - d. Ensure that all levels of government that provide public funds to educational institutions to ensure such students to provide an education in cooperative research and practices developed in collaboration with Aboriginal Elders.

We call upon the Council of Ministers of Education, Canada to maintain an annual commitment to Aboriginal education issues, including:

- 1. Developing and implementing Knowledge by Grade Twelve packages and learning resources on Aboriginal peoples in Canadian history, and the history and legacy of residential schools;
- 2. Sharing information and best practices on teaching curriculum related to residential schools and Aboriginal history, including the history of residential schools, and Aboriginal history, and social history;
- 3. Encouraging teachers to share best practices related to the above.

We call upon the federal government, through the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, and in collaboration with Aboriginal peoples, post-secondary institutions and educators, and the National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation, to partner with partner institutions, to establish a national research program to investigate the impact of residential schools on the health and well-being of Aboriginal peoples.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

- 1. Establish multi-year funding for community based youth organizations to deliver programs on reconciliation, and establish a national network to share information and best practices.

Sports and Reconciliation

- 1. In collaboration with Aboriginal peoples, sports federations, and other stakeholders, to promote sports activities that tell the national story of Aboriginal athletes in history.
- 2. Take action to ensure Aboriginal athletes' development and growth, and continued support for the Youth Aboriginal Indigenous Games, including funding to help the games and for provincial and territorial team preparation and travel.
- 3. Amend the Physical Activity and Sport Act to support reconciliation by ensuring policies to promote physical activity as a fundamental element of health and well-being are inclusive of Aboriginal peoples. This includes providing barriers to sports participation, including the potential of education in sports and training capacity in the Canadian sport system.
- 4. Ensure that national sports policies, programs, and initiatives are inclusive of Aboriginal peoples, activities, but not limited to, establishing:
 - a. In consultation with provincial and territorial governments, multi-faceted funding for and access to community sports programs that reflect the diverse cultural and traditional sporting activities of Aboriginal peoples;
 - b. An elite athlete training program for Aboriginal athletes;
 - c. Programs for coaches, trainers, and sports officials that are culturally relevant for Aboriginal peoples;
 - d. Anti-racism awareness and training programs.
- 5. We call upon the federal and local counties of international sporting events such as the Olympics, Pan Am, and Commonwealth games to ensure that Indigenous people, territorial protocols are respected, and local Indigenous communities are engaged in all aspects of planning and participating in such events.

NEWCOMERS TO CANADA

We call upon the federal government, in collaboration with national Aboriginal organizations, to ensure the information kit for newcomers to Canada and its citizenship, which is given to newcomers, includes the history of the diverse Aboriginal peoples of Canada, including information about the history and the history of residential schools.

We call upon the Government of Canada to replace the Oath of Citizenship with the following:

I swear (or affirm) that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the Queen Elizabeth II, Queen of Canada, Her Heirs and Successors, and that I will faithfully observe the laws of Canada including treaties with Indigenous peoples, and laws that apply to me as a Canadian citizen.

CHILD WELFARE

We call upon the federal, provincial, territorial and Aboriginal governments to:

- 1. Commit to reducing the number of Aboriginal children in care.

We call upon the federal government, in collaboration with the provinces and territories, to prepare and publish annual reports on the status of Aboriginal children (First Nations, Métis, and Inuit) in care, compared with non-Aboriginal children, as well as the services by child welfare agencies, and the effectiveness of these interventions.

Fully implement Jordan's Principle.

Enact Aboriginal child-welfare legislation that establishes national standards for Aboriginal child apprehension and custody cases.

Develop culturally appropriate parenting programs for Aboriginal families.

THESE ARE SOME OF THE HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 2015 TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION COMMISSION OF CANADA'S 94 RECOMMENDATIONS AND CALLS TO ACTION.

Please find this complete report here: www.trc.gc.ca/multimedia/146215/146215/PDF/94_Recommendations_and_Calls_to_Action_English2.pdf

"It is precisely because education was the primary tool of oppression of Aboriginal people, and miseducation of all Canadians, that we have concluded that education holds the key to reconciliation"

RECONCILIATION A Journey for All

During the final submissions to the 2015 Truth and Reconciliation Commission on the injustices and intergenerational traumas caused by Canada's Indian Residential School system between 1831 and 1996, Justice Murray Sinclair concluded, "Education holds the key to reconciliation".

Native Northwest is supporting reconciliation through increasing awareness, dialogue, and education on our shared history, and the education and healing needed to move forward as a country.

We are honouring all Residential School survivors — and the ones who did not make it home — by publishing Truth and Reconciliation: Calls to Action on Education, a poster highlighting some of the 94 recommendations and calls to action to advance reconciliation.

We have distributed over 9000 posters to classrooms and boardrooms across Canada. Native Northwest is honoured to partner with the National Research Centre on Truth and Reconciliation, and many other organizations and learning institutions on this initiative.
