Dear Bookseller,

As Einstein said “Creativity is contagious. Pass it on!” Indeed, if there is a theme running through our Spring 2019 list, it is about unleashing one’s creativity, whether one is a professional, a student, an enthusiast, or a child.

We launch a major new series of practical art books, “Do More Art.” With the first title, Ink this series breaks new ground by focusing on the ways that many of the most inspiring contemporary artists create their effects, rather than dealing simply with technique. #NoFilter provides photographers of all levels of ability with a raft of innovative, non-digital ways of making their photographs more striking and original.

Our list of titles for professional creatives is particularly strong. In How to Do Great Work Without Being an Asshole, Paul Woods uses very amusing drawings to illustrate the points in his text, which is as informative as it is entertaining. Michael Johnson in Now Try Something Weirder comes up with 233 tips on maintaining one’s creativity and managing relationships with clients in a book that draws on his successful practice. Graphic Design Play Book enables all readers to explore the rules of graphic design through engaging and entertaining games in a beautifully conceived book.

Henry Carroll, author of the books in our hugely successful series, which began with Read This if You Want to Take Great Photographs, moves to the children’s arena. Be a Super Awesome Photographer has ideas that should immediately capture children’s imagination and enable them to see the world and take pictures in an original way: “Pretend you are a dog” is my personal favorite.

Read All About It! 10 Mini-Magazines to Make and Share gives children visually inspirational materials that will serve as a springboard to enable them to describe their own worlds in words and pictures.

There are gifts too that follow this creative theme, such as Use This if You Want to Make Great Drawings: An Inspirational Sketchbook, the companion to our successful Read This if You Want to Create Great Drawings and the highly original and ingenious Make Your Own Mondrian.

But there is much else as well. A more traditional book, but one which I am particularly proud to publish, is Jonathan Jones’ Sensations: The Empirical Genius of British Art. In a very readable text, a leading art critic characterizes what is distinctive about British Art. It makes a compelling narrative.

The Empirical Genius of British Art

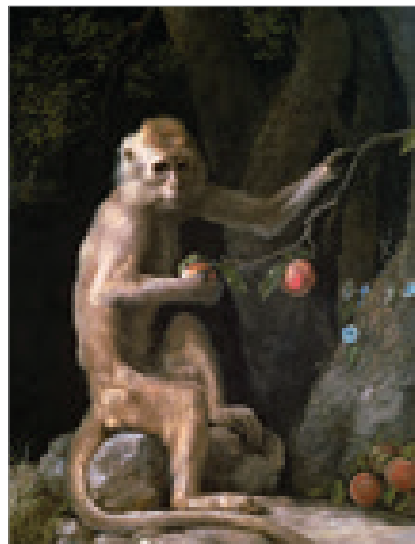

Jonathan Jones

- Compelling and richly illustrated account of British art over the last 350 years
- Demonstrates how British artists laid the ground for Realism, Impressionism, and the birth of modern art
- Argues for Empiricism as the unifying thread that connects the art of Hogarth, Gainsborough, Constable, Turner, Bacon, Kossoff, Auerbach, Hockney, Freud, Emin, and Hirst

What is the artistic impulse uniting Robert Hooke's drawings of insects, George Stubbs's studies of horses, and Damien Hirst's pickled shark? In this new and spirited account of British art, Jonathan Jones argues for empiricism. From the Enlightenment to the present, British artists have shared a passion for looking hard at the world around them. Jones shows how this zeal for precision and careful observation paved the way for Realism, Impressionism, and the birth of modern art.

AUTHOR Jonathan Jones is the art critic for The Guardian newspaper. He was on the jury for the 2009 Turner Prize and is the author of The Loves of the Artists: Art and Passion in the Renaissance and The Lost Battles: Leonardo, Michelangelo and the Artistic Duel that Defined the Renaissance.

Art of Renaissance Florence

A City and Its Legacy

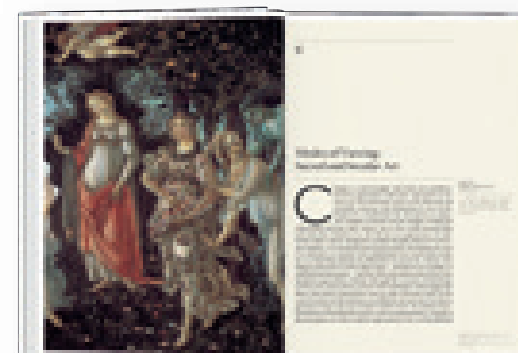

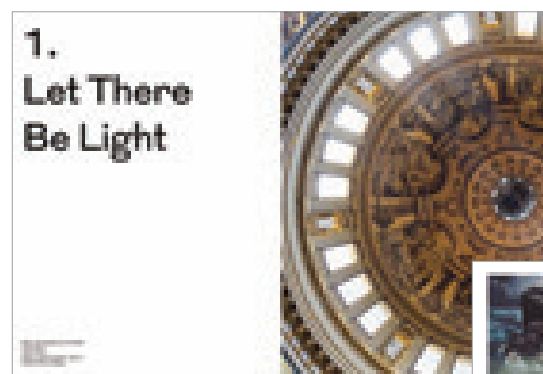

Scott Nethersole

- Fresh look at the art of Renaissance Florence and why its study still matters
- Explores the narratives behind and within the city's canonical as well as lesser-known works of art
- Lively text aimed at students of Renaissance art, as well as visitors to Florence

In this vivid account Scott Nethersole examines the remarkable period of cultural, artistic, and intellectual blossoming in Florence from 1400 to 1520 – the period traditionally known as the Early and High Renaissance. He looks at the city and its art with fresh eyes, presenting the well-known within a wider context of cultural reference. Key works of art – from painting, sculpture, and architecture to illuminated manuscripts – by artists such as Michelangelo, Donatello, Botticelli, and Brunelleschi are showcased alongside the unexpected and less familiar.

AUTHOR Scott Nethersole is Senior Lecturer in Italian Renaissance Art, 1400–1500, at The Courtauld Institute of Art, London. He has published widely on 15th century Florence.

The Book of the Flower

Flowers in Art

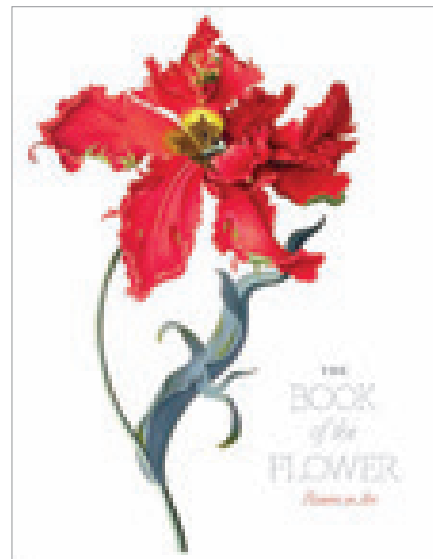

Angus Hyland and Kendra Wilson

- A beautiful and informative gift book of flowers in art depicted by artists, illustrators, and photographers
- Brief texts throughout, quotations, explanations, and elaborations on the choice of images
- “Art is the flower, life is the green leaf”
–Charles Rennie Mackintosh.

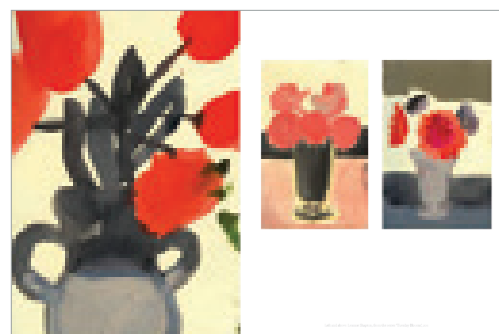

Haphazard bunches, formal bouquets, chance arrangements, quiet and thoughtful rural encounters – The Book of the Flower is a sylvan collection of beautiful depictions of flowers by artists, photographers, and illustrators. Interspersed through the illustrations are short texts about the artists and their interest in particular flowers, from Georgia O’Keeffe’s sumptuous close-ups of Jimson Weed and cactus flowers to Matisse’s roses, Keika Hasegawa’s chrysanthemums, and Albert York’s close study of zinnias.

AUTHOR Angus Hyland is a graduate of the Royal College of Art and a partner at Pentagram Design London. His books for Laurence King include The Maze, The Book of the Dog, and The Book of the Cat.

Kendra Wilson is an author and writer. She is a regular contributor to the Gardenista and her printed work appears in publications including The Sunday Times.

The Short Story of Modern Art

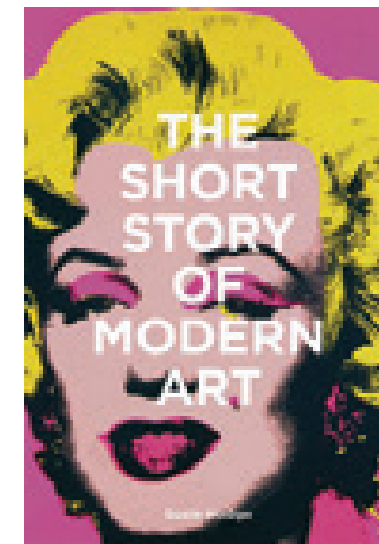

A Pocket Guide to Key Movements, Works, Themes, and Techniques

Susie Hodge

- The book for students, enthusiasts, and gallery-goers to understand where modern art came from and where it’s going
- New, innovative introduction to the story of modern art, from its inception to today
- Explores the key artworks, looks at movements, themes, and techniques, and explains the most important and influential concepts in an accessible and concise way

The Short Story of Modern Art explains the how, why, and when of modern art – who introduced certain things, what they were, where they were produced, and why they matter. The book explores 50 key works – from the realist painting of Courbet to a contemporary installation by Yayoi Kusama – and then links them to the most important movements, themes, and techniques. Accessible, concise and richly illustrated, the book reveals the connections between different periods, artists, and styles.

AUTHOR Susie Hodge is an art historian, historian, and artist. She is the bestselling author of numerous books, among them 50 Art Ideas, How to Survive Modern Art, Why Your Five Year Old Could Not Have Done That: Modern Art Explained and The Short Story of Art.

Global Art and the Cold War

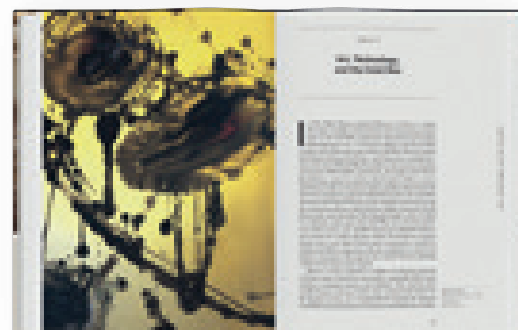

John J. Curley

- First truly synthetic account of global art produced during the Cold War (c.1945-1990), placing the conflict at the center of the discussion
- Examines the coded ambivalence and ideological contradictions of art post-World War II
- Analyzes 100 artworks, some among the most well-known in art history, from a new and original perspective

In this readable and highly original book, John J. Curley presents the first synthetic account of global art during the Cold War. Through a careful examination of artworks drawn from America, Europe, Russia, and Asia, he demonstrates the inextricable nature of art and politics in this contentious period. He dismantles the usual narrative of American abstract painting versus figurative Soviet Socialist Realism to reveal a much more nuanced, contradictory, and ambivalent picture of art making, in which the objects themselves, like spies, dissembled, housed, and managed ideological differences.

AUTHOR John J. Curley is Associate Professor of Art History at Wake Forest University. He has published widely on European and American modernism in art and is the author of A Conspiracy of Images: Andy Warhol, Gerhard Richter, and the Art of the Cold War.

Alcohol ink

Alcohol ink is a vibrant, fast-drying ink that can produce stunning patterns and colors and even produce patterns. These patterns can be used for your collage work, or for creating patterns in their own right. Think of neon signs, rock walls, or fabric designs that are truly unique and distinctive to create the perfect look for your art.

Alcohol ink can be mixed with other colors, and it's a great medium for creating patterns that are truly unique and distinctive to create the perfect look for your art.

The best paper to use with alcohol ink is a paper that is 100% cotton. This paper is the best for creating patterns that are truly unique and distinctive to create the perfect look for your art.

- Tip
Use alcohol ink on a surface that is non-porous and non-absorbent. This will prevent the ink from being absorbed into the surface, which will cause the ink to bleed and the colors to fade.

How can I highlight the period details in my house?

By Sarah I live in an old, grand Victorian house in London. I have a lot of period features, but I don't know how to highlight them in my house. Can you help?

Period details in your house can be a real joy, but they can also be a bit of a headache. Whether you have a grand Victorian house or a more modest Edwardian one, there are a few ways you can highlight these features in your home. One of the most important things to remember is that you don't want to overdo it. You want to highlight the features, but you don't want to make your house look like a museum. So, how do you do this? Well, there are a few things you can do. One of the most important is to make sure that the features are in good condition. If you have a chandelier, make sure it's working and that the glass is clean. If you have a fireplace, make sure the mantelpiece is in good condition and that the fire is burning brightly. Another thing you can do is to use the features as a focal point in your room. For example, if you have a large mirror, hang it in a prominent position. Or, if you have a piece of furniture, make sure it's the star of the show.

How can I restore my old kitchen cabinets?

By Sarah I have an old kitchen with wooden cabinets that are in need of a refresh. How can I restore them?

If you're looking to restore your old kitchen cabinets, there are a few things you can do. One of the most important is to make sure that the cabinets are in good condition. If you have any damage, make sure you fix it before you start painting. Another thing you can do is to use a high-quality paint. This will help to protect the cabinets and make them look like new. You can also use a stain to give the cabinets a new look. This will help to bring out the natural wood and make them look like new.

Space Dogs

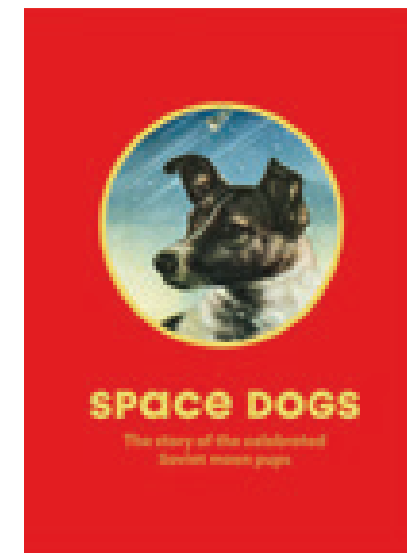

The Story of the Celebrated Soviet Moon Pups

Martin Parr

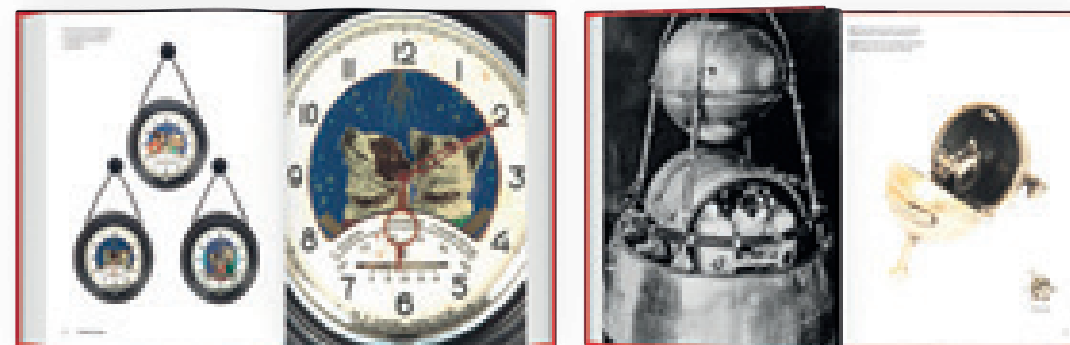

- The 50th anniversary of the moon-landing in 2019 will generate renewed interest in the space race
- A fascinating book featuring world-renowned photographer and collector Martin Parr's vintage space dog memorabilia
- This is a fun, kitsch subject with great material and a good narrative, making it an ideal gift and impulse purchase

In the 1950s the space race between the USA and the USSR was well and truly on. But before man ventured into the cosmos, his four-legged friends would pave the way. The first canine cosmonaut was Laika, meaning "barker". Her successors were Belka and Strelka, the first dogs to successfully return safely to Earth, and with them, the cult of the space dog was born. In a regime that eschewed celebrating individual achievement, these dogs became Soviet superstars, with a vast array of merchandise, books, and films in their honor.

AUTHOR Internationally acclaimed documentary photographer Martin Parr is also known for his astonishing and witty collections of 20th-century ephemera. Previous publications include Boring Postcards, The Last Resort and a retrospective of his work, Martin Parr. He has also been involved in several TV and film collaborations.

100 Ideas that Changed Graphic Design

Steven Heller and Véronique Vienne

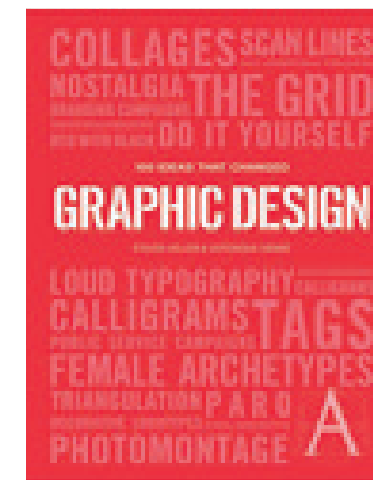

- New compact edition from the bestselling 100 Ideas series, which tells the story of graphic design in the last century
- Inspirational book for anyone interested in graphic design, both practitioners and students

This accessible book demonstrates how ideas influenced and defined graphic design. It is a great source of inspiration and a provocative record of some of the best examples of graphic design from the last century. Ranging from technical (overprinting, split fountain); to stylistic (loud typography, white space); to objects (dust jackets, design handbooks); and methods (paper cut-outs, pixelation).

AUTHOR Steven Heller is the co-chair of the MFA Design/Designer as Author + Entrepreneur program at the School of Visual Arts, NY.

Véronique Vienne has worked at a number of US magazines as art director and is a contributor to Graphis and Metropolis magazines.

How to Do Great Work Without Being an Asshole

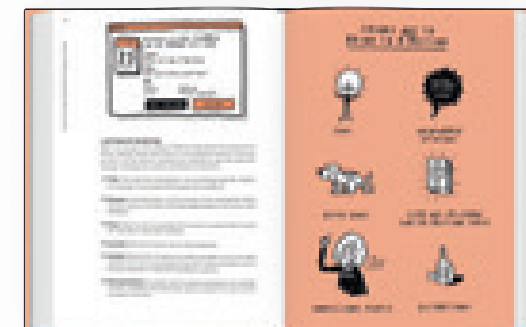

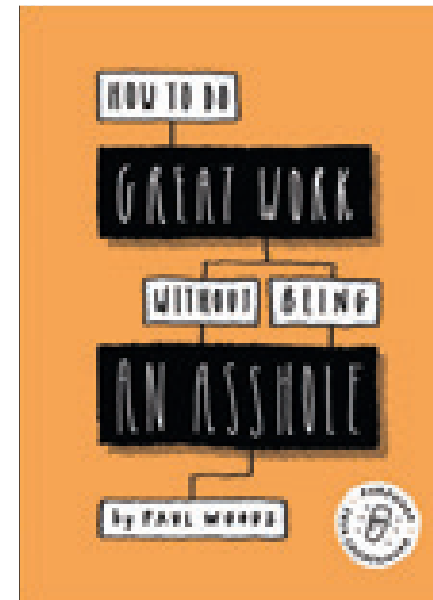

Paul Woods

- A straight-talking, fun read for all creatives which taps into the growing market for business self-help books, promoting kinder and more sustainable working practices
- Instructional chapters are accompanied by anecdotes, fun illustrations, analytical flowcharts, and interactive exercises
- The author is Chief Creative Officer at Edenspiekermann, Los Angeles

It's long been an accepted, almost celebrated, fact of the creative industries that long hours, chaotic workflows, and egotistical colleagues are the price you pay to produce great work. But this toxic culture is the enemy of creativity, and with greater accountability and transparency in the industry than ever before, this unsustainable way of doing business is a ticking time bomb. This book is for all creatives: Director or junior, at an agency or client-side, working in design, advertising, publishing, fashion, or film. Packed with anecdotes, self-analysis flowcharts (are YOU the asshole?!), exercises and action plans for better working practices.

AUTHOR Paul Woods is a designer, writer, and illustrator. He leads the USA operations of global design agency Edenspiekermann in his role as Chief Creative Officer. He has created award-winning work for brands including Red Bull and Google.

Making It

Third edition

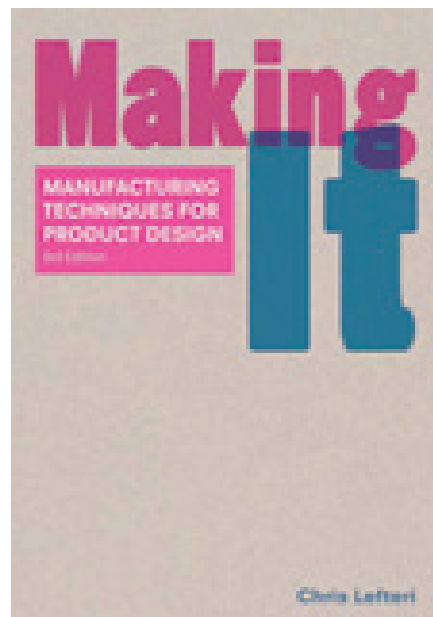

Chris Lefteri

- Explains over 120 production methods including 6 brand new case studies
- includes a new section on joining techniques
- New section on joining and new processes added

A product can be manufactured in many ways, but most designers know a handful of techniques only. With specially commissioned diagrams, case studies, and photographs of the manufacturing process, Making It uses contemporary design as a vehicle to describe production processes. This new edition evaluates each process in terms of sustainability and its effects on the environment. Making It appeals to product designers and interior designers, furniture and graphic designers who need access to a range of production methods, as well as to all students of design.

AUTHOR Chris Lefteri is an accomplished designer and an internationally recognized authority on materials and their application in design. He studied under Professor Daniel Weil at the Royal College of Art, London.

The Writers Game

Classic Authors

Alex Johnson,
illustrations by Lesley Buckingham

- Compare the great figures of classic literature in a series of off-beat stats (and curious facts and strange anecdotes)
- The perfect gift for book lovers

The pen is mightier than the sword, but whose pen is the mightiest of them all? Who wrote more, Charlotte Brontë or Fyodor Dostoyevsky? Who created more memorable characters, Jane Austen or William Shakespeare? Whose life was more eventful, Cervantes or Byron? Pit 32 of the greatest writers of all time against each other with these illustrated cards.

AUTHOR Alex Johnson is a UK-based journalist and writer. His books include Shedworking, Bookshelf, and Improbable Libraries.

Lesley Buckingham lives in the fertile glades of the English countryside where the enchanting surroundings of her garden studio permeate her illustration work.
